

Seed Envelope Template

Below are two templates for designing your seed packets.

- On the front of the packet, draw a creative picture that represents the history behind your crop variety, and is attractive to someone who might buy them.
- On the seal, draw a small picture or emblem
- On the back, neatly fill in the information about your seed
- Make sure to think about which way is going to be up when designing your packet! (The front and seal will have opposite sides up)
- There are two templates in case you make an error. Give your teacher your final version to make copies.
- Cut out and fold the seed packets on the solid lines. First fold up the back and then fold the sides over the back. Use tape or glue to secure the back. Do not secure top until adding seeds.
